To which are added, thirty-four Articles of Intelligence on various interesting Subjects; and two Drawings, one of the Thresher, or Squalus Longicaudus, and the other of the young of the Ovo-viviparous Shark of Long-Island, p. 65 to 104.

No. II.

I. Some Remarks on the Origin and Progress of the Malignant Yellow Fever, as it appeared in the Village of Catskill (New-York), during the Summer and Autumn of 1803. By Dr. Benjamin W. Dwight, of that place 105

II. Catalogue, in Part, of the Birds which frequent the Southern Parts of New-York. By Singleton Mitchill, Esq. of Plandome 121

III. Observations on the Game-birds of Europe and America, and on the Names by which they are distinguished among Sportsmen. By Samuel L. Mitchill, Senator in the Congress of the United States, &c. 124

IV. Short Description of the Country and Diseases on the Coast of South-America, from Porto-bello to Carraccas on the East, and from Panama to Guayaquil and Lima on the West. By Henry H——l, Esq. 128

V. A Case of Lunacy, with a new Argument in Favour of the Vitality of the Blood. By Thomas Ewell, of Virginia 135

VI. An Account of the Weather and Diseases at Wilmington, in Delaware, 1803. By John Vaughan, M. D. of that place 139

VII. Information concerning the Proceedings at Bellevue Hospital, near New-York, during the Endemic Sickness of 1803. By Isaac Forster, M. D. one of the Physicians 146

Reviews—of Krafft's American Distiller, with the latest Improvements, p. 148; of Transactions of the American Philosophical Society, vol. vi. part 1, p. 164; of Volney's Picture of the Climate and Soil of the United States, p. 172; of Collections for an Essay towards a Materia Medica of the United States, p. 197; and of Mease's Edition of Willich's Domestic Encyclopædia, p. 204.

To which are added, eighteen Articles of Information in Medicine, Economics, Natural History, and Literature, from p. 207 to 224.

To which are added, thirty-four Articles of Intelligence on various interesting Subjects; and two Drawings, one of the Thresher, or Squalus Longicaudus, and the other of the young of the Ovo-viviparous Shark of Long-Island, p. 65 to 104.

No. II.

I. Some Remarks on the Origin and Progress of the Malignant Yellow Fever, as it appeared in the Village of Catskill (New-York), during the Summer and Autumn of 1803. By Dr. Benjamin W. Dwight, of that place 105

II. Catalogue, in Part, of the Birds which frequent the Southern Parts of New-York. By Singleton Mitchill, Esq. of Plandome 121

III. Observations on the Game-birds of Europe and America, and on the Names by which they are distinguished among Sportsmen. By Samuel L. Mitchill, Senator in the Congress of the United States, &c. 124

IV. Short Description of the Country and Diseases on the Coast of South-America, from Porto-bello to Carraccas on the East, and from Panama to Guayaquil and Lima on the West. By Henry H——l, Esq. 128

V. A Case of Lunacy, with a new Argument in Favour of the Vitality of the Blood. By Thomas Ewell, of Virginia 135

VI. An Account of the Weather and Diseases at Wilmington, in Delaware, 1803. By John Vaughan, M. D. of that place 139

VII. Information concerning the Proceedings at Bellevue Hospital, near New-York, during the Endemic Sickness of 1803. By Isaac Forster, M. D. one of the Physicians 146

Reviews—of Krafft's American Distiller, with the latest Improvements, p. 148; of Transactions of the American Philosophical Society, vol. vi. part 1, p. 164; of Volney's Picture of the Climate and Soil of the United States, p. 172; of Collections for an Essay towards a Materia Medica of the United States, p. 197; and of Mease's Edition of Willich's Domestic Encyclopædia, p. 204.

To which are added, eighteen Articles of Information in Medicine, Economics, Natural History, and Literature, from p. 207 to 224.

No. III.

I. An Abstract of Horace Turriano's historical Memoir on the Plague of Messina, in Sicily, during 1743, with the Mode of employing the Rack and Torture to establish its Importation and Contagiousness 225
II. A remarkable Instance of diseased Brain. By Dr. Joshua E. White, of Savannah 229
III. Remarks on the Origin and Progress of the Malignant Yellow Fever at Catskill, (New-York), continued and concluded. By Dr. Benjamin W. Dwight 232
IV. Practical and diagnostic Remarks on the Yellow Fever, as it appeared at Martinique, and on the Use of Calomel and Opium in the same; with Observations on the Glandular Disease of Barbadoes. By George Davidson, Esq. late Surgeon at St. Vincent's 244
V. History of the Malignant Fever, with black Vomiting, which prevailed in the Valley of the Shenandoah, in Virginia, during the hot Season of 1804. By Robert Dunbar, M. D. of Winchester, Virginia 252
VI. Case of Monstrosity. By Dr. Jesse F. Jones, of Martin County, in North-Carolina 259
VII. Observations on Strangulated Hernia. By Dr. Chatard of Baltimore, Maryland 261
Reviews—of Mr. M'Kinnen's Tour through the British West-Indies, p. 265; of Abbe Clavigero's History of Mexico, p. 282; of Transactions of the American Philosophical Society, continued and concluded, p. 291; and of Dr. Mann's Prize Dissertation on the Cholera of Infants, p. 308.
To which are subjoined, fourteen Pieces of Scientific, Biographical, Medical, and Economical Information, from p. 317 to 344.

No. IV.

I. History of the Epidemic Disease which prevailed in Adams County, (Pennsylvania), in the Summer and Autumn of 1804. By Samuel Agnew, M. D. of Gettysburgh 345
II. Recital of the particular Occurrences during a violent Hurricane in the West-Indies and Southern States, in September, 1804; intended to illustrate some of the great Motions in the American Atmosphere: In a Letter from Samuel L. Mitchill, Senator in the Congress of the United States, &c. to Baron Humboldt 354

III. Facts concerning the Yellow Fever in Charleston, (South-Carolina), during the hot Season of 1804. By David Ramsay, M. D. 365

IV. Account of the Epidemic Fever in the Vicinity of York, in Pennsylvania, and near Codorus Creek. By Dr. Maxwell M'Dowell, of that place 367

V. Narrative of Facts concerning the febrile Distempers at George-Town and Washington (Maryland), in 1804. By Dr. Charles Worthington, of George-Town 371

VI. History of the extraordinary Season of 1804; and of the luxuriant Vegetation, great Rains, and subsequent Sickness in the Neighbourhood of Frederick-Town, and near the River Monocasy, in Maryland. By Grafton Duvall, M. D. of Frederick-Town, Maryland 374

VII. The superior Advantages of Tapping at the Navel, illustrated by a Case drawn up by Ennals Martin, M. B. of Easton (Maryland) 383

VIII. Case of Necrosis of the Tibia. By Dr. Eloy Berger, of New-York 389

Reviews—of A. Michaux's Flora Boreali-Americana, p. 394; of Clavigero's History of Mexico, continued, p. 396; of F. Michaux's Journey west of the Alleganies, p. 406; of Volney's Picture of the United States, continued, p. 410; of Waterhouse's Cautions to young Persons concerning Health, p. 421; of Dufief's Nature displayed, in her Mode of teaching Language to Man, p. 422; and of Johnson's Friendly Cautions to Heads of Families, p. 424.

Together with twenty-five Articles of Intelligence on the Yellow Fever of Italy and Spain, on Medicine, Geography, and Physics, from p. 425 to 452.